History: Hyères is a French commune in the regions of Var and the Provence-Alpes- Côte d' Azur.

Hyères est une commune française du département du Var et de la région Provence-Alpes-Côte d'Azur.

Capital of two cantons, the city is located on the shore of the Mediterranean Sea, 16 km east of Toulon, at the mouth of Gapeau river. This resort is named "Hyères les Palmiers" because of 7 000 palm trees planted in the town and grown in nurseries.

Chef-lieu de deux cantons, la ville est située sur la rive de la mer Méditerranée à 16 km à l'est de Toulon, à l'embouchure du Gapeau. Cette station balnéaire est nommée « Hyères les Palmiers » en raison des 7 000 palmiers plantés dans la commune et cultivés dans les pépinières.

Under the leadership of its mayor, Alphonse Denis, Hyères became a premier tourist destination towards 1830 and a global winter resort known for its thermal baths frequented by members of the high European aristocratic society, particularly the English community which left a noticeable architectural footprint in today's cityscape.

Sous l'impulsion de son maire, Alphonse Denis, Hyères devient vers 1830 une destination touristique de premier ordre et une station climatique d'hiver réputée pour ses cures thermales et fréquentée par la haute société aristocratique européenne, notamment par la communauté anglaise qui laisse une empreinte architecturale toujours perceptible dans le paysage urbain actuel.

Today, Hyères takes the lead in floriculture and the viticulture. The former health establishments and often former sanatoria were converted into rehabilitation centres, including the most significant in the department/area. The summer holiday resort of Hyères has developed thanks to its marina, its beaches and to the close proximity of its major tourist attractions such as the "golden islands", partially protected by a national park, the "salt marshes" and archaeological site of Olbia.

Aujourd'hui, Hyères occupe une position de tête en ce qui concerne la floriculture et la viticulture. Les établissements de santé, souvent d'anciens sanatoriums reconvertis en centres de réadaptation fonctionnelle, comptent parmi les plus importants du département. La villégiature d'été à Hyères connaît un essor grâce à son port de plaisance, aux plages et à la proximité de lieux touristiques majeurs comme les îles d'Or, protégées partiellement par un parc national, les Salins ou le site archéologique d'Olbia.

Hyères is very accessible as one can see from the guide "sites and establishments accessible to people with reduced mobility and wheelchair users" (attached).

Hyères est une ville très accessible comme on peut le constater avec le guide "Sites et établissements accessibles aux personnes à mobilité réduite et en fauteuil roulant" (pièce jointe).

In relation to the number of people participating in disability sport, there are 7 municipal associations affiliated to Sport for people with disabilities with a total of 209 paid up members. In 2013, the city of Hyères hosted 3 French championships in swimming, torball and boccia as well as 8 rounds of the national wheelchair basketball championships. Hyères has the biggest disability sports club if the number of members is taken in to account as well as the number of medals won in various European and world championships and Paralympic Games, including table tennis.

Concernant la pratique handisport en chiffre : on retrouve 7 associations de la commune affiliées à Handisport pour un total de 209 licenciés. En 2013, la ville de Hyères a accueilli : 3 championnats de France : natation, torball et boccia ainsi que 8 phases du championnat national de handibasket. Hyères a sur son territoire la plus grand club Handisport si on prend en compte le nombre de licenciés mais aussi le nombre de médailles (championnat europe, monde et jeux paralympiques), dont la discipline est le tennis de table.
